Understood. That makes sense. As for flagging potential issues, anything like what you propose enhances SC monitoring, messaging, and news analysis requirements. Appreciate you,

Thanks Monica. On the unclass front, we probably won't have unclassified things every week (most of our support is to intelligence diplomacy messaging themes and engagements). If you like, we can provide potential issues (classified) to be raised by NSC # Strat comms at your synch based on the engagements we have with NSC # East Asia throughout the previous week.

Cheers

Good talking to you, Mike. Looking forward to continued information exchange. As promised, please find the notes from today's Synch Call. I've also attached pdf files for the Reuters and Fox Business articles referenced with EXIM's input.

Afternoon [redacted]

(b)(6)

Following up on my phone message. I'll be joining the NSC Strategic Communications Call at 1330 hrs. No expectation for input given the time. I'll be in the office until 5:30 p.m. every day this week except Thursday.

Reference the IUUF matter, I learned last week that DoD and State had participated in two hub calls and a future one was pending. Will share the transcripts with you for situational awareness once received. Synch participants were told it contained good messaging. NSC Strategic Communications plans to hold some off the record talks after the election and inauguration. No due outs for confirmed events/actions to note at this time.

I'll be sure to follow up with you after today's huddle. I won't have anything significant to report as we had/have no media queries on China since the last engagement. Thank you for following up and I look forward to the chat.

Regards,

Monica Young Tullos

(b)(6) No problem [Redacted] I understand and would like to request inputs on a regular basis. Submission by Tuesdays at 0800 hrs. would be fine. Do you prefer a weekly reminder or is this standing request sufficient?

I did receive a due out from today's synch. NSC Strategic Communications shared material informing their Illegal, Unreported and Unregulated Fishing Effort as approved at the most recent IUUF PCC. IUUF messaging will be added to next week's agenda so synch participants may coordinate actions. We've been asked to provide feedback on how we can support the effort. Have you anything appropriate to share? Provide below for context is an extract from the strategy to highlight its objectives.

The communications strategy establishes a framework for U.S. Government communications on the People's Republic of China's (PRC) illegal, unregulated, and unreported fishing (IUUF), and related abusive and unsustainable fishing practices, across the globe.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of this communications plan are to:

- highlight the United States' strong record of accomplishment in countering IUUF, protecting fisheries, and promoting sustainable use of oceans
- promote American seafood as a preferable alternative
- impose reputational costs on the PRC government for its unfair and abusive fishing policies and practices—increasing incentives for the PRC to rein in its harmful activities

As always, thank you in advance for your assistance.

Hi Monica,

I apologize if we didn't get back to you on this. We were swamped today and I know I meant to answer but lost the time. If these are regular things, or if you know in advance when they may occur that would help us staff it.

SC will be joining a weekly communications synch on China messaging led by NSC Strategic Communications at 1:30 today. The meeting's objective is to review the previous week's efforts and provide an overview of the week's planned actions. Public rollouts, announcements and briefs should be identified.

Are there any activities with public implications pertaining to China that are appropriate to identify for the group? If so, please highlight key details.
